Yes, I confirm this bug... I'm trying to see what is missing in Ubuntu 10.04, and to find a workaround.

I'm afraid the only solution is to read, correct and write (and sometimes build from zero) all glade files with an old glade version (<=3.8), which seems to be quite a lot of time...

If you have other ideas, or if you want to do the job, please tell me.

Else, I think the "solution" is to wait and upgrade to Ubuntu 12.04 (or upgrade to Ubuntu >= 11.04).

Since I have a ubuntu 11.10 machine available and 12.04 is around the corner, I'll settle for one of those versions.

So I will run my production on the 11.10 machine for now.
