Description:	Currently, the default subject and content for email being sent to students are just static text such as "Exam result" and "Please find your... Regards." I would like to embed some dynamic text such as exam name, code and student name to the subject and content. For example:  Subject: Result of %c exam Content: %(name), you get %s points out of %m for the examination "%n". Please find your annotated completed answer sheet. If you have any question...

- Status changed from New to Feedback

Added in revision r1095. You can use %n for the name (or code) filled in Preferences/Project, %s %m %S %M and %(xxx) as for annotation.

Thank you.

I tested it and it worked very well.

I think it would be useful if there were a convenient way of viewing the current %n value in the Mailing window.

One (especially I) will be likely to forget to set the exam name.
