I know a person who can add in community package of archlinux when it will be stable.

Hope you can find some time to help me again...

Can you try to build from a precompiled archive?

https://download.auto-multiple-choice.net/auto-multiple-choice_1.4.0_precomp.tar.gz or

https://gitlab.com/jojo_boulix/auto-multiple-choice/tags

Hello Alexis,

Happy new year !

In fact I know this solution but I want to integrated into AUR and make all_precomb works but not make install

<pre>

install -d -m 0755 -o root -g root //usr/share/auto-multiple-choice/models/ar

install -m 0644 -o root -g root doc/modeles/ar/*.tgz //usr/share/auto-multiple-choice/models/ar

install: cannot stat 'doc/modeles/ar/*.tgz': No such file or directory

The result of `@make all_precomp@` from the precomp archive should be exactly the same as the result of `@make all@` from the source archive, but with far less processings.

> install -m 0644 -o root -g root doc/modeles/ar/*.tgz //usr/share/auto-multiple-choice/models/ar
> install: cannot stat 'doc/modeles/ar/*.tgz': No such file or directory

That looks strange: can you check that there are some `_tgz_` files in `@doc/modeles/ar@` (they are already in the precomp archive)?
